Welcome back, grand fans of colossal creatures! It's been nearly a year since the last broadcast but that silent year had its advantages. We, here at the A.O.M.R. headquarters are dreaming up incredible projects for all you giant monster fans out there. Staggeringly, astonishing kaiju and amazing stories to thrill you a little, and chill you a little; and that is only a fraction of plotting and planning we are undertaking here.

However, I finally got back in the solar sonobuoy to broadcast the new All-Out Monster Revolt Radio Show! As I dangle in space over looking the earth attached to space station x-1 like a tether ball I can't help wonder if there are intergalactic gargantuan gorillas out there. That's probably because tonight's show is all about giant apes. In conjunction with the second issue of the all-out monster revolt magazine which is all about the eight wonder of the world, King Kong! Actually there is so much other-kong material out there we might do another magazine devoted to his pongid cohorts.

Before we get started I guess I should talk about tonight's show. As I said, tonight is all about giant gorillas of every kind and we crisscrossed the timelines so ape was left behind, not even the purple one!

ENJOY!
